

bürotime

Bürotime; realizing its innovative products by considering the human, environment and design elements, ensures the satisfaction of its customers by providing products and services of universal quality and standards that reinforce the sustainability understanding with its employees, solution partners and concept stores.

Leading manufacturer focuses on innovation and R & D concepts in all applications carried out in production processes. In order to reach the goal of becoming a global brand, aims to have a say in both domestic and foreign markets with its award-winning designs that direct the sector.

Touching all contact points of the design allows a more complete and better brand experience of the relevant product or service for the user. The physical design originality created with aesthetic concerns for all kinds of products and product groups that make life easier has a place in every field of production. The visual and functional objects that can be designed aren't produced by "reproduction", but by the way of "new production". The designs in which technological innovations are applied not only raise the standard of living of individuals; at the same time, it transforms ideas like durable and aesthetic product perception into reality. Physical design meets a need for the user from a functional point of view; but the original design details make it indispensable and preferable for the user.

As Bürotime, we build the perfect harmony in our products on creating a balanced visual language and value by blending the functional and aesthetic elements that will keep it alive with contrast varieties. In our opinion, the state of equilibrium within the design is achieved by ensuring even distribution of the parts in order to indicate their stability as a whole.

Original products developed to meet the needs of people in the office play a role beyond traditional design. With different designs for the service and the sector to be used, the perspective of the service changes and a people-oriented understanding is obtained.

We believe that changing "office and living spaces" concepts will always exist in a corner of human life, even though they evolve in the direction of future trends and smart technologies, and we have the feeling that values such as mutual communication and sharing can be felt more effectively together. What is important for us is the reflection of our products and services as an added value to humanity and environment.

“Products that put users first.

The offices of the executives are defined by meticulous order and reflection of their owners with sophisticated style. De Stijl art movement inspired Theo. This design embraces the essential geometric forms and simple lines, and utilizes the concept of 'harmony and order'. We materialized the intellectual profundity in the perfect lucidity of the clear forms and created autopia of harmony.”

"A series that focuses on the infrastructure of success.

Success at work is formed by many elements. 'Power' is at the top of these elements. Perception of the power is best expressed through a good story, where the office of the executive is the stage where story takes its place."

Murat Erciyas

15

Eternity

18

“Power, glory, trust.

Throughout human history, in most forms of government, castles have been built on high cliffs. This approach for security purposes also allowed the ability to view and control the city from above. Today, in the buildings known as cliff houses; With the need to create more special and high-level living spaces, we see an architecture that extends forward or upward on a foundation placed on rocks. In the light of this architectural information, we can overlap the words such as “power, grandeur, trust” represented by these structures with the concepts of “infinity without borders” at the same time. In today’s business life, “Infinity Concept” has been emphasized in order to express the position in the best way in the senior executive group furniture work to meet the needs of senior managers of companies.”

Lead

“Nowadays, as a result of changing population in the offices and the evolution of the contemporary work, roles are less rigid and hierarchical, with greater emphasis placed on horizontal relationships in the offices.

Based on these approaches, Lead executive series was designed as a response to the fluid and dynamic nature of contemporary work environments. Its design goes beyond the idea of the traditional desk, communicating openness and dialog. The collection stands out for its carefully-designed structural details and skilled use of materials, all of which result in an unmistakable stylish signature.”

Duygu Aslanel

23

Core

26

“Core shines out with its design combining elegance with functionality, adding power and prestige to executive offices.

Asymmetrical composition created by a unique combination of surfaces enriched with various materials, diverges from monotone lines and exhibits a modern and elegant outlook. The product family where natural stone, leather, and wooden materials gain momentum with fine craftsmanship demonstrates the glory executive offices require while presenting to its user force it owes to nature.”

Maki

30

“For extraordinary executives.

Maki interprets form and function at its most iconic and contemporary senses. Angular legs challenge the realities of statics and at the same time with their unique silhouettes offer an artistic approach to office furniture. Both stories are written for executives who aim to reflect the power and continuity in the business world. With its inspiring simplicity and fine details Maki casts a lasting impression in modern office.”

“Note Workstation family blends a simple design language with its strong stance, adding an aesthetic appearance and prestige to common work areas. The award-winning foot design supports employees ergonomically and cable detail solutions create tidy spaces. There are different combination options in the product family, from a two-person table to a six-person table. Thanks to the table top positioned at the head, it strengthens the interaction and communication in the working environment and raises productivity to the highest level. Intermediate panels with wide color and fabric alternatives not only add color to offices, but also protect acoustics by creating personal work areas.”

Levels

“Perfectly blending wood with leather, Levels allows managers to easily focus on the meeting.

Levels provides a comfortable and convenient work environment for the strong leaders and managers focusing around a topic, opinion or presentation. The relationship between the components visually and functionally provides diversity in the product to meet different dimensions and needs. The combination of wood and metal sheet legs allows the combination of the naturalness of wood and leather material in different color alternatives. Measure differences in foot and in the pieces used in table top create a natural balance among themselves. The level differences between surfaces refer to the “Levels concept” which is set as the starting point in the design of the product.”

Throne

“Imagine a corner in the office that belongs only to you.”

As the workspaces turn into more collective and open structures, the need for employees to get away from the intense schedule of offices increases significantly. Acknowledging this differentiation in offices and work culture, we designed Throne, which reveals in a gentle way the privacy and comfort that is most needed in the flutter of an office.”

Duygu Aslanel - Utkan Kızıltuğ

Throne Wave

"As the workplaces turn into more collective and open spaces, employees need private spaces where they can get away from the busy office life to think and relax.

Throne Wave, which we designed considering this differentiation in offices and working culture, in addition to its 360 degree rotating feature, it also has the characteristic of a swivel rocker lounge chair with its special design mechanism. The most striking difference from classic swivel rocker lounge chairs or armchairs, it can be swung in any direction. Throne Wave which is a waiting chair that can easily adapt to your office or home with different material and color options, it is a stylish and decorative product that you can sit and enjoy for a long time on..."

“Creates original and aesthetic spaces with its innovative style.”

Beluga; defines the seating function of two individuals as space while providing its self-supporting with the arch forms created by the combination of many trusses' projections on the floor. The inward curves created by the arc forms, which settle on the floor, provide stability of Beluga and enable users to position their legs backward during the seating action. Its design allows it to be positioned in public spaces as well as in private areas. While creating a structure that will support the sitting function ergonomically, it creates a perception of a natural form with its organic appearance.”

213

Sam

“Past and future presented in a perfect craftsmanship.

We designed Sam as the reflection of refined taste. The look of Sam reminds us of 1950s, but its functional details and clear lines belong to the modern world. It creates a balance between the past and the present and delivers a very different atmosphere to the waiting areas.”

Days

220

"Days aims to bring a new perspective to the concept of waiting in offices, while bringing the aesthetics of wooden benches, which we are accustomed to seeing as urban furniture from past to present, into indoor spaces. Each slice, with its triangular shape, forms the integral structure of the product. Slices facing the same direction line up to form part of a circle. Conversely, if each unit is positioned side by side with a one hundred and eighty degree rotation, a straight bench emerges. This unique feature adds different scenarios to seating units with different placements of a single unit. The most striking feature of the half-back version, in addition to the full-back, is that it allows different users to sit facing each other in a single unit. The round table, which can be positioned on both sides of the bench and provides easy access from all directions, is an aesthetic and optional addition where we can place our belongings while waiting. Days, which can be positioned in offices, waiting areas and many other different places, modestly blends our minimal and aesthetic design touch with the past while presenting simple function with a different language. It gently reminds users of the value of time while waiting."

Utkan Kızıltuğ

221

Hexa

“Simple geometry and modular flexibility.

We see that waiting group furnitures which are mostly used in corporation’s reception and public areas, began to be used in the open offices as well.

When we begin to design Hexa, we wanted it to have a wide usage areas, appeals multi users and fully meets all needs. Owing to its modular structure it easily fits to different areas with different combinations. Hexa is a product which responds the needs of its user and the environment.”

Fatih Aslantaş

| Zoom

224

"A favorite of the high circulation areas.

We imagined that Zoom would have a fast interaction with users in waiting areas. The basic form is pretty familiar, we designed it as a chain of stools. Zoom designed without a back panel, this feature makes it easy for users to communicate with each other."

Artful Design

225

Flat

“Waiting areas turn into a comfort center.

Flat airport bench is a comfort center that meets today's needs. Meeting all user needs, Flat is designed for all public areas where waiting moments are important. The product, which has a suitable structure for the dynamics of architectural spaces with its strong construction and geometry, stands out with its hidden assembly details, elegance and sophisticated style. While different seat arrays offer numerous configuration alternatives in the space, they also provide the opportunity to add to existing products. The surface discharges in the backrest and seat fonts, which perfectly connected to each other, provide a flexible structure that increases comfort. The easy assembly structure that provides the advantage of on-site service creates continuity of use with parts replacement without completely disassembling the product.”

Arman Design

Port

230

“Every detail is covered for long term use.

Adding value to wherever it is with its strong structure, and firm and sharp lines, Port is becoming a favorite for waiting areas with its skin plate cushions, and connection apparatus that have the characteristics of a coffee table...”

Süha Süzen - Arif Akıllılar

231

Pick

232

“Energetic and exciting.

Pick is a complementary unit of waiting areas and modern offices with its modular structure, alternative color and material options. The waiting area is the first place where the companies shared its character with the guests, therefore, Pick provides a pleasant waiting time for its users with its eye-catching and coherent structure. It also provides solutions in the office to create area for resting, relaxing and socializing individually or in groups.”

Marin

"Inspired by bollards found on docks used to moor ships, Marin is a sturdy, simple and easily transportable office furniture piece. Its lightweight nature provides ease of use and flexibility. While its simple yet powerful form draws attention, it adds an aesthetic touch to its surroundings. Bringing a colorful maritime atmosphere to the office, it creates a space where employees can relax during short breaks."

Utkan Kızıltuğ

237

Zoom Stool

"A dynamic seating experience.

Zoom stool, which is the most important complementary element of high tables from new generation work areas to social areas such as cafes and restaurants, provides a dynamic sitting experience with a height-adjustable rotating seating surface. Chrome-plated metal bistro leg adds elegance to environment with artificial leather, fabric and felt upholstery options offering a wide range of color alternatives."

Artful Design

Fast Stool

240

"Fast Stool, emerged from the idea of achieving the best result with the simplest form, seamlessly blending the elegance of simplicity with comfort.

From office, café-restaurant to social spaces, Fast Stool is adaptable to various purposes and provides ease of storage with its stacking feature."

241

Loria Stool

242

"Loria is a balanced collection. From the very first steps of development, the aim was to combine simplicity and comfort with an identifiable silhouette available in different versions. Particular attention has been given to the design of its curved, enveloping polypropylene shell, which elegantly incorporates a distinctive ridge running across its side to provide extra comfort for the armrest. The design of the Loria armchair is a subtle blend of curves and lines, creating a harmony that evokes both ease and rigour."

In addition to its simple design, it has an elegant and modern look with its natural wood veneer table and block lacquered legs. With these features, it will be in harmony with many furniture and spaces."

Fatih Aslantaş

255

USB

“Although Bürotime’s new product USB is designed for home-office environments, it is a perfect modular display and storage system that can be used for multiple purposes and can meet today’s needs.

USB draws its design strength from two upright profiles. These two profiles have the ability to carry shelves, cabinets, tables and arrange them according to the shape of the space. Its modular features, easy assembly details, flexible size, material and layout options allow USB to be used in many areas and sectors such as home-offices, university libraries, dormitories, government offices, shopping malls etc.”

Murat Erciyas

Stack

"Stack brings a different and innovative breath to individual storage needs in line with the changing demands of the users in accordance with today's modern working culture. Designed to provide solutions for storage needs in working areas ranging from home office to executive offices, Stack; it creates stylish spaces with its perforated panel on the back surface, decorative sliding door option, elaborate round handle and foot details. Vertical metal pipes at the corners combine the legs at the bottom with the fittings at the top of the cabinet, thus creating a surrounding frame that provides visual integrity."

Focus

“Creates flexible, functional and inspiring environments in working areas.

Noise may cause physical and psychological damage to human health. As the noise level increases, the stress level rises, focusing problem occurs. When it is exposed for a long time, blood pressure increases and many problems such as breathing problems occurs. Therefore noise is seen as a frequent problem in many offices, causes concentration problems and thus to decrease employee’s productivity. With Focus, it is aimed to create peaceful workspaces that are visually and aurally isolated in open office environments. With its modular structure, many different usage scenarios can be created such as for spontaneous meetings, a comfortable, quiet resting area, isolated work areas... Magazine holder, white board and hanger accessories satisfy overall user / employee needs.”

Özge Çağla Aktaş - Utkan Kızıltuğ

Home Office

Working dynamics changed due to flexible working hours have begun to convert the offices into homes, and the homes into offices. As the traffic and transportation issues have increasingly become the biggest challenges of the big cities, and the mobile devices and internet have become faster and proliferated in recent years, working from home has increased significantly. Units that will boost up the concentration and effective working, and are designed to provide solutions to all the needs of the users in the working space are indispensable elements of the home office environment.

Home office products should accommodate intelligently positioned units and storing spaces where the required materials are kept, and should be designed in a way to incite the motivation of work without going off the general atmosphere of the house.
