“The SURF chair family, which responds to the dynamic and versatility demands of the modern world, combines simple beauty and functional richness. Designed for different sizes and usage scenarios with its integrated (monoblock) plastic injection body and various tubular bending leg designs, SURF is shaped in line with today’s design and architectural trends in every detail. The vertical and frequent lines on the back of the body give the design both an aesthetic identity and dynamic movement. This detail transforms SURF into a simple but striking design element, combining elegance with a bold presence. With its unique monochrome color palette and chrome leg alternatives, SURF adds a modern touch to spaces while appealing to the preferences of different user profiles.”

SURF

With its minimalist design and contemporary lines, Surf achieves the perfect balance between simplicity and versatility, creating dynamic spaces. The vertical lines on the back part add an elegant touch to its monoblock form. Its stackable structure, along with different leg and unique color options, offers a wide range of uses from offices to social areas, from home use to cafes and restaurants. The Surf chair family adds aesthetics, comfort and freedom of movement to work and living spaces.
